

COMEDY MURDER MYSTERY SHOWS

Sit back and enjoy a really superb, and truly unique "laugh a second" Murder Mystery Comedy show, performed in between the courses of your meal. Not the usual game of Cluedo type event; more of a let your hair down, and have great laugh for the whole evening! However... you still have a murder mystery to solve!

"What happens?"

Our "Comedy Murder Mystery Dinners" are performed as a three-part comedy show, although we are flexible and can change this to suit your purposes. We entertain your guests between the courses of the meal. The guests are never disturbed whilst they are eating, which further enhances the social aspect of the event. The action is continuous and hilarious from the very start.

"Can the audience join in if they want to?"

We actively encourage plenty of audience response and participation, which always leads to some lively repartee! We can even get guests up to join us within the show and actually play roles themselves, which always evokes a good reaction. We do this with cue cards and, together with some inside information and cunning script writing, you can be sure the event will be talked about at great length within the Company after the show. As one of our clients recently said: "Three months on and we're still laughing about your great show!"

"How long will the event last?"

As a guide, if the event takes place over a three course meal starting at 7:45 pm, the meal and entertainment finishes at around 10:45 pm. We are very happy to do lunchtime events if required, as well as Murder days & weekends, which are all, designed to personal specifications, written by us, for you and your company.

"Publicity?"

If required, we can supply you with publicity posters and invitations for your event. We will also provide especially printed table programs, with your Logo scanned onto the front, along with a cast list and the chosen Menu printed on the inside. We will also furnish the winner with a specially printed winners rosette.

"How is the event organised?"

From the moment you book the event we get to work. We will work alongside you and the venue management before and during the event. We make sure that the venue has been pre-briefed of your exact requirements. This way, you can relax and enjoy the event; safe in the knowledge that it will be expertly organised from start to finish. We think that you should relax and enjoy the event with your guests.

"How does the show finish?"

The audience are asked to complete a police report form, which asks for opportunity, method, weapon, suspect and more. We can also run limerick competitions and the like alongside the rest of the entertainment. Whilst the guests are having their coffee, we judge the forms and return to stage a special awards ceremony. We read the best (...and the worst!) of the forms and end the event with the presentation of the prize/s to the winner/s.

"Absolutely excellent! There wasn't a moment when we weren't laughing. Can't wait to do it again next year!"

"Several people had attended other Murder Mystery Evenings before, but had found that they dragged and were not at all funny, so your group set an entirely new standard for murders!"
